

University of Pittsburgh

Office of Research

Tip of the Week
Friday, May 12, 2017

Genetically Modified Animal Requests

The Office of Research in conjunction with the Division of Laboratory Animal Resources (DLAR) has streamlined the process to request Genetically Modified Animals (GMAs)*.

Effective immediately, requests for genetically modified animals will no longer require Office of Research Approval. The acquisition of these animals will be coordinated solely by DLAR.

For additional information about obtaining these services through DLAR, please visit the Office of Research website at: <http://www.research.pitt.edu/genetically-modified-animal-requests>

*Genetically Modified Animals are animals that include transgenic, knock out, knock in, and other genetic modifications and manipulations.